DOSE Principle of the Week:
Mindset of Innovation
“The more original a discovery, the more obvious it seems afterwards.”
–Arthur Koestler

“We cannot solve a problem by using the same kind of thinking we used when we created them.” –Albert Einstein

“Model Land-Grant University” President Lou Anna K. Simon spoke with university administrators, officials and student leaders about the new initiatives of her revised strategic plan for the university – Bolder by Design. Boldness by Design ultimately rested upon five pillars to become the “model land-grant university for the 21st century.” These include goals to enhance the student experience, enrich community, economic,
and family life, expand international reach,
increase research opportunities and strengthen stewardship. To learn more, click here.
