Today marks the MIDDLE of the semester! It is the last day for withdraw or dropping courses with no grade reported.

Spartan Hospitality Group Human Resources Manager Jill Respecki knows all about going the extra mile and seeing it make a difference.

Jill has been committed to training the Spartan Hospitality Group staff and engaging them in sustainable practices. As a Green Hero, Jill has been invaluable in preparing the Kellogg Center staff to partake in the recycling program as it was implemented.

“Times have changed and sustainability is very important,” said Jill. “We now discuss sustainability in our staff orientation programs, and we show what and where to recycle to make sure that staff is actively practicing those things every day.”

To kick off the recycling program at the Kellogg Center, Jill Respecki and Chief Engineer Alex Vaszily met with RHS Assistant Director of Sustainability Diane Barker to figure out how to implement a recycling program that could meet the demanding needs of the kitchen and the guests.
