Closing the College-to-Career Gap

Employers are becoming more and more interested in students who have skills beyond their academic discipline. This means skills that reach across many disciplines and the ability to connect different areas. Higher education leaders will be gathering in San Jose, CA March 24-25 to discuss meaningful ways to incorporate this into MSU’s curricula.

Weekly Topic

Effective Communication

“The difference between the right word and the almost right word is the difference between lightning and a lightning bug.”

Mark Twain